Understanding Pep Guardiola?s 85 Passing Rondos

What Are Passing Rondos?

Passing rondos are controlled drills where players form a circle or a small grid and practice maintaining possession through precise, quick passing. The primary objective is to keep the ball away from defenders or opponents, emphasizing quick thinking, accurate passing, and movement off the ball. Pep Guardiola's version of rondos often involves specific constraints, such as limited touches, target passing, or dynamic movement, to simulate real-game scenarios.

The Significance of the 85 Passing Rondos

The term '85 passing rondos' specifically refers to a high-volume, intricate rondo exercise designed to enhance players' technical and tactical attributes. These sessions typically involve:

- Rapid succession of passes, often exceeding 85 touches in a set period

- Adding neutral players who always support the team in possession
- Increasing the number of touches allowed to develop different skills
- Introducing defensive pressure for realism
